IF Rend This.—From the Commercial Advertiser and Jour-nal, dated Ruffalo, Aug. 5th. 1841.—Barsrot. by the use of his Ex-watt of Sarsapurilla, has lately effected one of the most extraordinary cares we over saw or heard of. Sometime last June his attention was cores we ever saw or heard of. Sometime last June his attention was accidentally called to the case of a muu named Hasset, who for two rears had been apparently dying by inches of a disease induced by the injudicious use of mercury, and subsequent and treatment. At the lines Bristol first saw him, as we are informed by Hassett hanself ad by several of our most respectable citizens, clergymen and others, who were acquainted with his case, he was in a most herable casdition—wasted to a skeleton, racked by intense pains, his limbs and face covered with ulcors, and his life, to all appearance, scarcely work a day's purchase. The case was desperate, but for the sake of his family it was worth while to make an effort to save him. He then hid aside all his medicine and look nothing but Sarsaparilia, and two weeks since he called upon us and teld his story. It was like a resurrection from the dead. His flesh had returned, his vicers had healed, and the bloom of health again began to show in his cheeks. These are facts. Our readers will been us witness that we are not given to full quackery, medical or political, and we write this only at the respect of the grateful convalescent.
